

WMSC Requests Increase in Night Power

The management of radio station WMSC announced last night that application has been filed with the federal communications commission for permission to increase the station's night-time broadcasting power from 500 to 1,000 watts.

WMSC is now authorized to broadcast with a power of 1,000 watts during daylight hours and 500 watts at night, using a directional antenna system.